Fortunately, the aeroplaning of the price of gasoline comes in the waning automobile season.

Vermont really does not need to issue bonds to build good roads when the automobile owners have paid $1,000,000 in 10 years for that purpose.

Bryan's attitude in urging the people of the United States not to misunderstand Wilson denotes that a new wind has struck the weathercock.

Barre firemen are about as fleet and nimble as can be found anywhere, as the events at Rutland on Monday proved once again. They earned their honors clearly.

Even little North Duxbury was feeling an increased pulsation from the European war—till the fire came and destroyed its mill. There are few parts of the world that are not affected more or less.

The New York Sun says authorities intend to stop "reckless driving" of automobiles in their precincts. Vermont wants just that kind of automobile driving, let it be stated.

The acme of commercialism was reached by the junkman who stole the bronze tablet marking the Indian trail through Franklin park, Boston. Next thing we shall hear of their shinning up the State House and denuding it of the sacred god.

If Goddard seminary keeps on growing in enrollment, it will become imperative that additional dormitory accommodations be provided. The accommodations now available are crowded to the limit. A new dormitory could be used to good advantage even now.

That it pays to continue the efforts at resuscitation of apparently drowned persons was clearly shown in the Bellows Falls incident when physicians worked over a youth for four hours before detecting signs of returning life. Persistent effort of this sort may work seeming miracles.

KEEPING TRACK OF THE SUBMARINES.

An indication that the German admiralty is not in very close touch with that arm of the service which includes submarines is given by the official announcement of the admiralty on Tuesday, Sept. 7, that the submarine U-27 sank a small British cruiser "several weeks ago," the information having apparently just been received. Moreover, the admiralty has heard nothing of the U-27 since Aug. 10 and is at loss to understand the failure to report unless it be that the vessel was destroyed. That it is next to impossible to keep in close touch with these undersea vessels may not be easily believed, since the vessels may not be compelled to return to the naval base until their supplies threaten to become exhausted; and communication from the naval base to the commanders of the vessels must be very uncertain, as the vessels are scattered over a very wide area. Therein Germany might find a fairly plausible excuse for the torpedoing of the British steamer Hesperian if it should be ascertained beyond all question that it was a torpedo rather than a mine which struck the liner. Germany might advance the excuse that it had not been possible to communicate the change in orders regarding submarine warfare to all the vessels and that the attack on the Hesperian was the result of such inability to notify the commander of the attacking submarine. The belated announcement on Sept. 7 concerning the triumph of the U-27 in sinking a small British cruiser rather than the way to the adoption of such a position by the German admiralty.

MONTPELIER

U. S. Naturalization Court to be Held September 28.

Judge Harland B. Howe of St. Johnsbury will hold a session of United States district court in this city September 28, according to information received in this city today, for the purpose of hearing all naturalization cases which were continued at the January term of court held here and all applicants who appeared for their final paper in April. Clerk F. S. Platt of Rutland will also hold sessions of the court in this city and Barre for the purpose of granting the first citizenship papers and receiving applications for the second or final papers on the same and following date.

Orville Pine, member of the firm of Pine and Corvin, who recently opened a restaurant on Main street, this city, was taken yesterday afternoon to Heaton hospital where he was operated upon for appendicitis. He was taken with the first attack Monday. Mr. Corvin, who was passing the week in Rutland, attending the fair and carnival, was summoned to this city.

A daughter was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Telesforo Arante of 126 Barre street.

Robert Murphy is employed in the local office of the American Express company during the absence of William Herring, who is taking a two weeks' vacation from his duties.

Frank Tupper resumed his duties as baggage master at the local Central Vermont office this morning, after a ten day's vacation, passed in New York City. His place was filled by Edward Carey.

W. J. Doyle left last evening for Winoski to resume his studies at St. Michael's college.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Clouthier of Worcester, Mass., who passed two weeks in this city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ploof of Loomis street, have returned to their home.

In probate court today, Dora M. Whitmarsh of Northfield, was named as executor of the last will of Charles N. Whitmarsh, late of Northfield.

Tickets to the number of 165 were sold at the local Central Vermont station this morning for the special train to the Northfield fair, which opened yesterday. The number from this city was increased materially by those who went to Northfield by automobile, teams and the noon train.

Merl B. Howard has returned from Greensboro, where he visited his family for a few days, and has resumed his duties in the office of the commissioner of education.

GRANITEVILLE.

Roscoe and Leslie Melver were business visitors in Northfield Tuesday.

Misses Ella Earle and Gertrude Wood have gone to their school in West Topsham and Fairlee.

Ernest Palmer and Robert Wilbur and families have returned from a camping trip to Mallets bay.

Mrs. John Smith and daughter, returned from a month's visit in Scotland and Lenwick, P. Q.

Gardner McLeay left yesterday for Boston, where he will attend school.

A child was born Sunday, Sept. 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kovin.

James Whelan of Essex Junction is visiting friends in town.

Miss Georgia Kowatz has returned from a visit to Rockland, Me.

"The Bernhardt of the Photo Play."

Miss Edith Storey, the Vitagraph motion picture star, who is portraying Viola Allen's part of Glory Quale in "The Christian," the famous story by Hall Caine, the pictured version of which will be presented at the Pavilion theatre to-day and to-morrow has much to say relative to the value of acting in the drama and in pictures. Miss Storey is well qualified to speak since she has been called "The Bernhardt of the Seven," and prior to her entrance into pictures she was an actress on the stage.

According to Miss Storey, playing such a part as Glory Quale in "The Christian" is pictures is infinitely harder than doing the same thing in the drama. Miss Storey's contention is that the photo-play actress is deprived of her power of speech, and anyone who stops for a moment to consider will realize what difficulty they would have if they were asked to convey all of their meanings without using a word.—Adv.

PLAINFIELD.

The meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union which was scheduled for Friday, Sept. 10, has been postponed till further announcement.

WIPING OUT SCHOOL BONDS

permits and they were granted: A. C. Moore, to remodel house at 29 Beacon street; Rizzi Bros., to erect surface out-shed on Blackwell street; Mrs. Mary Zamboni's request for permission to erect a marquee over her drug store entrance on North Main street was referred to the street committee. Inspector Rand's July report, referring to some 40 minor permits granted, was accepted. A request was signed by A. H. Buzzell, McAllister & Kent, R. T. Henderson, F. A. Nichols and R. S. Currier, alleging that Dr. F. X. Z. Archambault violated a city ordinance in moving his barn nearer than five feet to other property, asked that he be compelled to provide the roof of that structure with guards to prevent the ice and snow from dropping into Potash brook and clogging the water course. The request was referred to the committee of the whole.

On the favorable recommendation of Wire Inspector C. C. Perkins, permits were granted: F. D. Beckley to wire a garage at 9 Beckley court; Henry Pasola to wire printing plant for motors; John Maxson, to wire dwelling on East street for lights; C. W. McMillan, to wire stonemason for motors; B. P. Willey, to wire house on South Main street for lights. The revised water regulations were re-read and ordered to become effective Oct. 1.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Twenty-third anniversary sale at Abbot's.

Clean-up sale of odd waists at 39c, at Vaughan's.

George R. Beyerle will be in Barre this week. Leave orders at Times office.

Mrs. Grace Wood Cutler of 31 Jefferson street is now ready to receive pupils in pianoforte, theory and harmony. Phone 95-W.

Miss Anna Walsh, who has been passing several days in the city with her sister, Mrs. James T. Carwell, has returned to her home in West Rutland. She was accompanied by Mrs. Carwell, who will make an extended stay at her former home.

Miss Lillian Roberts, who has been passing a month's vacation in Canada, Belfast, Me., and other points "down east," arrived in the city last night from Northfield, where she has been visiting her parents. Miss Roberts resumed her duties in the ticket office at the Central Vermont station this morning, and Raymond McLeod, who has been acting in charge here for a few weeks, went to Bolton, where he has been appointed station agent.

Fair-going people in this vicinity heard the call of the fair this morning, many leaving by train and auto for the fairgrounds at Northfield. Thirty tickets were sold to folks who left the city over the Barre branch at 8:13 o'clock and as many more were on the special train which left Barre at 8:40 o'clock. Others who were leaving the city throughout the forenoon expected to be on the grounds in time for the races this afternoon.

There will be no band concert to-night, as the contract operating between the city and the Barre Citizens' band requires only a single public appearance of the musicians during the week of Labor day. Several of the musicians are attending the Dog River Valley fair at Northfield and the next concert will not be given until Wednesday evening, Sept. 15. Three more concerts are on the schedule.

This afternoon at sundown Barre Hebrews, along with people of that persuasion throughout the world, will begin the celebration of Rosh Hashannah, the Jewish new year, 5676. A number of local Hebrews have gone to Burlington, where solemn synagogue festivals are to be held. Among the Hebrews the new year is a time for serious thought and each year evokes serious contemplation of the graver problems of life.

Those who spent the recent holiday on Camel's Hump report an encounter which P. D. Chamberlain, the state forester on the mountain, had with a female bear and two cubs. Mr. Chamberlain ran across the wild trio on the mountain side between Callahan's farm house and the summit, and when the mother became separated from her two offspring the forester thought he would try to capture the cubs. He made but little headway as the mother bear rushed to the defense of the cubs and Mr. Chamberlain beat a hasty retreat.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gould More and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Spear and family have returned after spending a three weeks' vacation at Roxbury, N. Y., in the Catskill mountains. While there they attended the quarter annual centennial reunion of the John More association, of which they are members. The celebration last from August 31 to September 5, inclusive. During the latter part of the week the More-Roxbury pageant was held at Kirkcaldy park, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pinley J. Shepard. The children of the two Barre families took part in the pageant. Nearly 400 members of the association were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shepard at a luncheon given at a large tent on their grounds and later in the day at a supper. One scene of the pageant was called "The Vision of Nature" and was given as a tribute to John Burroughs, the naturalist, whose home is nearby and who was present as a guest.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

The Agenda class of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Etta Covell next Friday evening, Sept. 10. The opening chapters of "Real Letters of a Real Girl," will be read. Members bring needle-work.

There will be a lecture by Rev. Albert Abbott in the M. E. church on Thursday evening, Sept. 9, at 7:30. The subject of the lecture is "Cornwall, and the Cornish People." This will be followed by a social hour, at which time refreshments of ice cream and cake will be served. The Williamstown male chorus will sing. Everybody cordially invited. Proceeds to be devoted to the cost of the tennis court.

Robert E. Clagston, son of Burt W. Clagston, formerly of this town but now of Bradford, has received the appointment as regular carrier on route No. 1, from this office, the same to be effective Sept. 20. He will take the place of temporary carrier E. Clyde McAllister, who has served the route, first as substitute and later as temporary carrier, since Jan. 1. Robert Clagston is a graduate of Williamstown high school, class of 1911, and later finished a full four years' course at Montpelier high school. He has been for the past three years, engaged as teacher of the grammar school at East Barre, and was to have continued work there this year, had he not received this appointment. He expects to move to this village before the 20th.

Mrs. Lillian Staples Smith and two children, who have been the guests of P. W. Bruce several days, just returned the 7th to their home in Manchester, N. H.

Miss Lucy Abbott who has been spending some time in the family of Mrs. Laura D. Walker, left town Tuesday for her home in Ovid, N. Y. She will visit relatives in South Royalton on the way.
